'HUZZAH' FOR MILAM...

Perhaps the first outside audit in Milam County history is scheduled, we understand.

Thanks to this commissioners court, Milam Countians are asserting the prerogative so commonly required by incorporated towns and cities, school districts and almost any other political subdivision, the prerogative for professional accounting of how the county's money is used.

It is simply another element in the public's right to know.

Newspaper and political briefings are on the agenda for 117 late this week in Washington.

Residents Must Apply

For $3,000 Tax Exemption

All Cameron residents who reached the age of 65 before January 1, 1976 are entitled to an exemption of $3,000 valuation on their homestead if located in the city limits, if you are the legal owner and resided in the homestead prior to January 1, 1976.

To be eligible for this exemption the owner must furnish proof of age (birth record, drivers license, or two witnesses) and present the information to J. P. Fuller, city tax collector before May 1, 1976.

Highway Patrol Reports

February Accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 17 accidents on Milam highways during February, according to Sgt. Fred Hurst, supervisor for this area.

The 17 accidents resulted in one death and 14 injuries for the month. These figures result in a total of 41 accidents with 2 deaths and 22 injured in Milam County during 1976.

It is the first time back in two years to an NNA government workshop which capsules an enormous range of material, expertise and geography in a few days.

I am making a side trip to American Press Institute for insights into that seminar center of the print media as well as committee meetings for topics involving freedom of information, public notice and government relations issues.

Though Washington is the tempestuous center for attacks from disenfranchised citizenry, it remains the focal point for national dialogue such as the current debate between mayors and governors and the Congress on revenue sharing.

Events range from receptions at the National Geographic Society to sessions in Senate, House offices, State Department, National Institute of Health to Embassy Row and other fascinating places.

This is an annual education in the complex of modern government and media emerging from the dusk of Watergate, Vietnam and political assassinations of the 1960s. A bi-centennial look at central government is critical if we are to adjust outward to more modern state and local government in its overtaxed stead.

If we are to create regional thoroughbreds, we need to know more of the weights on the federal swayback.

Firm Hired For County Audit

$16,250 Cost Told At Tuesday Meeting

KITE FLYING CONTESTANT Greg Moore readies his kite for action Saturday for the kite-flying contest at 10 a.m. at the new ballfield at Cameron Airpark. Last Saturday's contest was called off because of bad weather. Trophies will be awarded for the best home-made kite, best stunt with a kite, highest flying kite, and best all-around kite.

Total cost for a county audit was estimated at $16,250 by a Sinton accounting firm to county commissioners in a called meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The cost includes $1,250 for expenses with cost of the audit at $15,000. Commissioners went into executive session to reach the decision to hire Harris, Havens & Co. of Sinton to do the job. By law, competitive bids are forbidden for audits.

Ray Harris, one of the firm's partners, reported some of his findings in a day and a half of looking over county offices which handle money.

Harris said the sheriff's department would present the most difficult job because of the volume of business but emphasized that this is not "adverse criticism." He also cited the district clerk's office as presenting more of a problem than some of the other offices.

Harris said there is a lot of financial action in the sheriff's office and said the office needs a part time bookkeeper. He said the sheriff is running an installment business, collecting fines in installments which is perfectly permissible, but presents bookkeeping problems. Harris said "quite a few hours" would have to be spent in that office and that of the district clerk.

He noted the absence of duplicate pre-numbered receipts in the sheriff's office and the office of district clerk. Harris said recommendations will be made in the firm's final report.

He saw no problems arising in auditing the Justice of the Peace, county treasurer, county auditor, county clerk, tax collector and county attorney offices.

The audit will cover the year of 1975, with the firm beginning work on April 19. Harris said some six or seven men would be making the audit, working long hours for a week. The figures will then go back to the home office for an official report.

Harris is senior partner in the Sinton firm and serves as county auditor of San Patricio County. His partner also has an office at Pleasanton, he said.

County Judge O. B. Harden said Harris has been highly recommended by counties for whom he did audits, and he is still working as auditor for three counties.

Harris told commissioners he could set up systems for county offices which would make further audits much less expensive, but this service would cost extra.

Highway Department Projects For City Now Await Approval

Plans for reconstruction of Fannin and Industrial Road are ready for approval in state and federal offices, representatives of the Texas Highway Department told city councilmen at a Tuesday meeting.

Franklin Shenkir and John Anderson, engineers from the THD Hearne office, told council that since the plans were first made in 1974, costs have gone up and the $100,000 planned for spending would be used for two projects instead of the original three.

The projects include Fannin from Highway 190 to 22nd St. and Industrial Road from its intersection with 22nd onto Door Factory Road.

Shenkir said the city would have to provide for curb and gutter along Fannin from 12th St. as part of the project. The city will draw up an assessment program for the needed improvements.

In other business council tabled a request from the fire department for more fire alert systems, noting that the department's budget has other calls on it at this time.

A parking problem at George Miller's sandwich shop was discussed, with Miss Mildred Thornton offering to foot the cost of painting a no parking zone with yellow paint. The offer was accepted. Mayor Gene Blake also told the police chief to issue tickets for those parking on the wrong side of the street at the post office.

A committee of the whole council was appointed by the mayor to contact other cities and counties to see what they have done about the ambulance problem. Milam County Commissioners Court will be notified of the action and given a chance to have representatives meet with the council committee.

Mayor Blake said if the ambulance service was incorporated into a non-profit organization, it could be eligible for help from federal grants.

The ambulance problem arises from notification of the city and county by the two Cameron funeral homes that they will no longer provide ambulance service after June 15.

Deadline Nears For Registering Vehicles For 1976

Motorists have only about two weeks in which to register vehicles for 1976, County Tax Assessor-Collector Valtier White reminded today.

Deadline for registration of vehicles is midnight, April 1, he said, adding, "at 12:01 a.m. on April 2 its a violation to drive a vehicle which hasn't been registered."

White said the sale of the new red, white, and blue stickers is going along about normal, but he does expect long lines at the last minute, as some motorists invariably wait to register their vehicles.

He said the new registration procedure under which one sticker is used on old plates compared to the former method of distributing new plates, "has worked out pretty good in Milam County."

White said he has had a number of instances where motorists put the sticker on the wrong plate or the wrong vehicle, "messing up good," and a replacement sticker is available at his office for $1.30.

9,600 Voters Register In County

"Registrations have been coming through pretty good," said Mary Ann Eanes, tax office deputy clerk. "We have registered a total of 9,600 so far in the county."

Cutoff date for persons to register to vote in the May 1 primary election is 5 p.m. April 1, according to the county tax office, where registrations are taking place.

Mrs. Eanes said the office has mailed out the blue voter registration cards, and anyone who has not received a blue card will not be eligible to vote in the primary.

Anyone wishing to vote in the primary election and who has not received a blue voter registration card should contact the Milam County tax office for the proper registration.

Absentee voting for the April 3 city and school elections began on Monday, with the deadline for registering for those two elections already past.

Five candidates are seeking three seats on the school board, with incumbents Forrest Sapp and Carol Barr both filing for re-election and John Henderson Jr. not filing. Other candidates include Frances Price, J. C. Komar, and Lee Roy Doskocil.

Absentee voting for the city election is open also, with a mayor and two councilmen to be elected. None of the candidates, which include Lawrence Zott for mayor and Lincoln Mondrik and Ernest Moore for re-election as councilmen, have opponents.

Hearings Set On Public School Finance

AUSTIN

Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale announced a series of hearings to be held throughout his district to hear alternative suggestions to public school finance in Texas today.

"We are presently operating under a very regressive ad valorem tax system," Kubiak stated, "and I feel the taxpayers should have a chance to voice their opinions as to the most equitable solution to school finance."

The first of these hearings will be held in Falls County in the Marlin High School auditorium on March 25 at 7 p.m. The Round Rock High School auditorium in Williamson County is the setting for the second hearing on March 30 at 7 p.m. Milam County will host the last hearing in the Rockdale High School auditorium on April 8 at 7 p.m.

"I urge everyone interested to attend one of these hearings whether you reside within these counties or in the surrounding areas," Kubiak said. "It is important that we reach a fair alternative for the Texas taxpayer cannot continue to pay the exorbitant property taxes he presently does."

Kubiak presently serves as vice-chairman of the Special Committee to Study Alternative Methods of Public School Finance.

J. Matula Dies; Was Retired PO Supervisor

Jaro F. Matula, 67, of Cameron, a retired post office supervisor, died Monday in a Cameron hospital.

Funeral was at 10 a.m. Wednesday in St. Monica Catholic Church with the Rev. John Geiser and Rev. Stanley Vodka officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Rosary was recited at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Marek-Burns-Laywell Funeral Home in Cameron.

A native of Milam County, Mr. Matula was a veteran of World War II and a member of the Knights of Columbus and the KJLT Lodge.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Kathryn Matula of Cameron; his mother, Mrs. Felix Matula Sr. of Cameron; one step-son, Don L. Macon Jr. of Houston; one step-daughter, Mrs. Bill Reese of Houston; one brother, Felix Matula Jr. of Cameron; and two sisters, Miss Mary Matula and Mrs. Theresa Thompson, both of Cameron.

Mishap Injures Driver

A one-car accident a mile south of Pettibone on FM 485 Monday resulted in a broken jaw for H. K. "Hub" Faulkner of Cameron when his auto went out of control and struck a utility pole.

Highway Patrol Trooper Scott Douglas investigated the accident which occurred about 10 p.m. Faulkner was admitted to St. Edward Hospital.

7 File For Council

Seven candidates have filed for the three vacancies on the Rosebud City Council, said City Manager Mrs. Marlene Roark.

Incumbent John Green Jr. has filed along with newcomers Joe Holcek, Miss Virginia S. Moore, Mrs. Owen Smith, James A. Worthey, Donald Zipperlen, and Paul Zipperlen Jr.

Two incumbents, John Sampson and Dennis Kasner, are not seeking reelection.

The election will be April 3 at the D. Brown Memorial Library. Absentee voting is being held now through March 30 in the Rosebud City Hall.

Chicks Go To Growers

A total of 40 FFA and 4-H youths have signed up for the county broiler program and will receive their baby chicks Friday at 4 p.m. on the Cameron mall.

The chicks will be raised for seven weeks and at the end of that time the grower will select the five best for the junior broiler show to be held May 8 at City Park in Cameron. A banquet will also be held that night for sponsors and growers and awards will be presented.

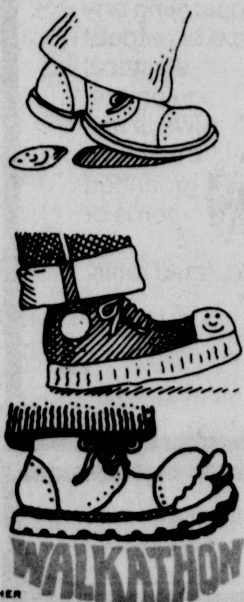

All sponsors are asked to meet on the mall Friday to present the chicks to their growers.

Unemployment Low

Milam County's employment picture remains about the same, at 3.6 percent unemployed, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

Of a labor force totaling 8,372, some 8,071 are employed, leaving 301 unemployed.

Due to increased requests by area employers for retail sales employees, the commission has reorganized its placement section to handle retail employers' needs. Mrs. Janet Hatcher has been designated to refer qualified cashier and sales people to retail employers.

The Importance Of A V-P...

The next 25 state primaries are all but pointless for the Republicans and repetitions for the Democrats.

For Tuesday Gerald Ford dominated Illinois Republican votes with 60 per cent or more to Ronald Reagan's 39 per cent or less.

And in a Humphrey-less, Jackson-less Illinois primary Democrats yielded a 48 per cent plurality for Georgian Jimmy Carter, 27 per cent seconds for George Wallace and an unredeeming 18 per cent for Sargent Shriver, who is now out of it. Fred Harris trailed at 8 or 9 per cent.

Carter has a broad-based appeal which has settled Wallace to a 30 per cent or less showing in almost every primary while liberals Udall, Shriver and Harris are dividing the balance. It is coming down to Udall among liberal Democrats.

It is really coming to Carter vs. Hubert Humphrey and Scoop Jackson in the late going. It is but a matter of a few weeks until Reagan will concede the obvious and reconcile differences with the President before the summer GOP convention.

Any further trial comparisons are pointless as week-by-week events shape and reshape majorities' views of theoretical Ford-Humphrey, Ford - Jackson or Ford - Carter contests.

Ford has the economy and the incumbency to exploit. A Democratic ticket has numbers to advantage. But numbers are subject to shift in a presidential race as in no other U. S. political confrontation.

A populist appeal is not working for Harris or Wallace. Honesty and economic competence are working for Ford. A new visage and lack of dogma are thus far in Carter's favor.

But the same weakness which finally catches Reagan is awaiting Carter. Carter has yet to prove a central strength to his youthful, broad-based appeal. Reagan's record as governor of the most populous state failed him. Carter's record as governor of a Southern state has yet to receive national scrutiny.

Humphrey is a known national quantity, a major senator and crusader long on rhetoric. Jackson is a study in orthodox stance for national defense, civil rights and senatorial committee influence. If he were an appointed incumbent, he would be following much the same political course as Ford and enjoying similar party success.

But Humphrey is not yet a national winner and Jackson is not yet a national candidate. Carter is now certain to join one of them on the ticket this summer in New York City. If Carter has pre-empted populist and liberal Democrat politics, he has also pre-empted Ted Kennedy from all but a late ballot role in some kind of convention deadlock.

National competence is becoming more a question in these primaries and Ford reached an 80 percent level against Reagan in Illinois test samplings, almost double in six weeks.

The way it looks in mid-March, the vice-presidential candidate for the Republicans may be the critical factor in who wins the White House in November. LBJ was the Democratic difference in 1960.

The primaries otherwise have told about all there is to tell.

"Low Down"

FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

WOULD CONTINUE SOCIAL SECURITY A MONTH AFTER DEATH

Rep. S. L. Neal (N.C.) "I have today introduced legislation to provide that an individual's entitlement to benefits under title II of the Social Security Act shall continue through the month of his or her death or of the insured individual's death in the case of a dependent, instead of terminating with the preceding month, unless the resulting delay in survivor eligibility would reduce total family benefits. . . . The present law contains inequities which would be corrected by enactment of my bill (H.R. 11931). For example, present law provides that if a husband receiving social security benefits should die on or after April 1, the widow would be required to return the entire check for the month of April.

"Other of my colleagues have proposed that the benefits for the month in which death occurs should be prorated. My bill would permit the survivor to retain the check for the entire month.

"There are several reasons for this act of seeming generosity. . . . First, the period immediately following the death of a loved one is a time of deep grief and mourning, when survivors frequently are not competent to transact business or accept added responsibility.

Second, the survivors usually are burdened also with extraordinary expenses such as the funeral costs and hospital bills of the decedent.

Third, the closest survivor most often is elderly or infirm, frequently in financial straits, and must rely on social security benefits for survival. Therefore, to require return of the final social security check often deprives the survivor of his or her only cash on hand.

"We rectify this hardship when we permit the survivor to retain the benefits received at the beginning of the month of death. We can do that simply by declaring that the insured individual shall be deemed to have died the month following the actual month of death.

"This legislation is sorely needed by elderly Americans and others who find, alas, that the cost of living is made more painful by the cost of dying. . . .

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Passing H. R. 11931 would put an added burden on the Social Security Fund. However, having to return a social security payment after the check was cashed, is a clumsy regulation that needs reviewing.

Campaigns Show Warming Trend

Political campaigns are beginning to warm as the May 1 primaries approach.

Both Democratic and Republican executive committees last week certified names of candidates (including the presidential preference primary delegate contenders) for the ballot.

Republicans also decided to submit referendum issues on forced busing, denial of bail to repeat felons, non-parolable prison sentences for crimes of violence, use of oral confessions in trials and wiretapping to fight organized crime.

Texas lawyers, meanwhile, announced results of their poll on statewide judgeship races. Those responding to a State Bar poll favored San Antonio Court of Civil Appeals Chief Justice Charles W. Barrow for the State Supreme Court over Donald B. Yarbrough of Houston.

The lawyers also strongly preferred incumbent Court of Criminal Appeals Judge Truman Roberts for reelection over Dallas District Judge Jerome Chamberlain.

Texas AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) delegates took a look at the candidates and decided to endorse U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen for reelection, State Rep. Lane Denton of Waco for Railroad Commission, Barrow, Roberts and congressional candidates Welby Parish of Gilmer, George McAlmon of El Paso and Bob Gammage of Houston.

Loopholes

A loophole in the sales and use tax law is costing Texas cities $16 million a year, the comptroller's office told a House subcommittee.

The loss is due to "direct pay" permits available to about 200 businesses which purchase $200,000 or more worth of items for their own purposes annually and pay taxes directly to the state.

Rep. Joe Allen of Baytown said he also believes the state is losing between $15 million and $200 million a year in taxes on cigarettes coming across the Mexico-Texas border through mail order sales.

The study of how to close tax loopholes is continuing, and ties in with orders of the governor, lieutenant governor and House speaker to hold down spending and avoid new taxes.

Anti-Crime Targets

A House task force studying crime mapped its key targets in its first meeting here.

Priorities include mandatory prison sentences for crimes involving firearms, denial of bail for repeat offenders, establishing the state's right to appeal in criminal cases, use of oral confessions and authority for use of wiretaps under restrictions.

The panel will meet again in San Antonio March 26.

Courts Speak

The Supreme Court took under advisement whether the open records act authorizes courts to prevent government data use for possible illegal purposes.

The high court rejected the plea of a Webb County man to get on the May 1 ballot as a candidate for county attorney. It also turned down two judges trying to get on the El Paso County ballot.

Complaints against the state savings and loan commissioner in Jacksonville and Nacogdoches applications will be reviewed by the Supreme Court.

AG Opinions

A doctoral student is entitled to see his qualifying examination and evaluations, Atty. Gen. John Hill said in a new open records decision.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

The dental laboratory advisory board can call meetings on its own initiative, but the Board of Dental Examiners is not obligated to follow its recommendations.

Deputy game warden commissions issued after September 1 are invalid.

Appointments

Charles D. Morris was named to succeed Robert L. Hardesty as press secretary to Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Briscoe appointed Sherill Burba, mayor of Olney, to the Midwestern State University board of regents. He reappointed Frank J. Douthitt of Henrietta and W.M. Thacker Jr. of

Dear editor:

According to a news article I read the other night, the Postal Service, alarmed over the drop in first class mail, is considering an advertising campaign to get people to write more letters, because those 13-cent stamps are where the money is in the mail business.

So, the Postal Service is considering spending about $15,000,000 a year on a national advertising campaign, trying to get people to write more letters.

So I got to thinking, what would be some good slogans the Postal Service could use in its ads?

Here's one: "Sure, it cost a little more to mail a letter these days, but it gets there quicker."

Maybe we'd better hold up on that one for a while.

How about: "Write, but be careful about whom you write to. Remember, your Congressman can answer without a stamp."

Or: "Stop. Don't pick up your phone, pick up your pencil. Nobody can bug a letter."

Steam it open, maybe, but not bug it."

I'm not getting very far. Let's consider another angle. Take that proposed 15-million-dollar advertising campaign. Just to get its gross outlay back, the Postal Service would have to sell an extra 115,384,615 stamps. Assume it makes a profit of say three cents on each 13-cent letter mailed. It would have to sell 500,000,000 stamps just to break even. To make a real profit it'd have to sell one billion more stamps.

In other words, the people of this country have got to write 1,000,000,000 more letters than they're writing now, if this plan is going to work. The burden, however, does not fall evenly on the populace. Take away the people who can't write, the babies, the kindergartners, a State Legislator here and there, college freshmen who can't pass a grammar course, the non-writers, the illiterate, the paper-less, the pencil-less, the Senior Citizens who have no money left for stamps when they get through paying their utility bills, and the vast unsorted who have nobody to write to and nothing to say if they did--take away all these and that doesn't leave very many people, who, to make the Postal Service's advertising campaign pay off, would have to knuckle down to writing letters night and day.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

ELECTRICAL SAFETY

Dos 'n Don'ts

Don't...

ignore appliances that are slow to heat, fuses that blow, TV that shrinks; they can be symptoms of inadequate wiring. Don't take any chances, have your wiring checked by a qualified electrician.

Don't...

stick objects into appliances or outlets; besides risking electrical shock, this may result in a short circuit.

Also keep unused outlets and extension cords covered or capped to prevent small children from sticking objects into outlets.

Don't...

overload circuits or extension cords. This will overheat wiring causing insulation to bake and crack. The heat can set fire to wood or exposed wires can cause a short circuit.

Do...

ground major appliances and make sure they have their own circuit that is properly fused.

Don't...

hang cords over pipes, ducts, nails or hooks. Keep them away from heat and water.

Do...

use extreme care working outdoors around powerlines. Ladders, pipes, pool cleaners, tree trimmers, masts, kites, and model airplane wires can cause fatal shocks.

Do...

exercise extreme care and judgement when operating any type of outdoor electrical equipment. Always use three wire grounded cords or use double-insulated tools.

Children Face Bleak Prospect

More than 170 children in central Texas face the bleak prospect of growing up in a series of foster homes, ultimately belonging to no one but the state. These are the children who have been taken away from their parents by court order because their home situations posed real threats to their physical or mental health.

The only alternative to a life of continual uprooting and emotional turmoil is adoption. Yet because these youngsters are older (usually school age), or have handicaps, they have not found adoptive homes as quickly as infants, who are very much in demand.

Ten or fifteen years ago, a child past the age of two years was considered virtually "unadoptable." But the marked decline of infants available for adoption, caused by greatly lowered birth rates, is leading some couples to consider making an older child a part of their family.

Adoption of older children involves stresses that are different from the problems of infant care, but both the older children and their adoptive parents have found the experience richly rewarding. Adopting a school age youngster has the advantage of allowing the adoptive parents greater prior knowledge of the child's personality. Also an older child often fits in better with the life-style of a mature couple.

The State Department of Public Welfare is looking for generous, mature persons who would enjoy guiding and loving older or handicapped children as permanent members of their families. Neither home ownership nor a high income is required for adoption, but warmth and stability are essential. Although parents of all races and ethnic groups are being sought, there is a particularly urgent need for black parents.

Adopting through the welfare department is a relatively simple process. It begins with a telephone call to the regional adoption unit in Bryan, (713) 823-0921. An adoption worker will discuss the program and mail the caller an application form. Information may also be requested by writing to the adoption unit at P. O. Box 191, Bryan, TX 77801.

A home study is then made by a social worker. This consists of several interviews with the prospective parents. After the family is approved, the placement of a child is just a matter of time. It might take a few weeks or several months depending on the type of child that is wanted and the availability of that type of child.

The child must remain in the adoptive home six months before the adoption becomes final. This assures that the placement has a good chance of working out.

In most cases there are no fees paid to the welfare department for this service.

However, a court filing fee and an attorney's fee are usually required at the time the adoption becomes permanent. These vary greatly, but the attorney's fee can often be paid in several installments. Generally speaking, adopting through the welfare department costs much less than going through a private agency.

Home Lawns Need Boost

About this time of the year home lawns need a boost to get them in shape for the spring season just around the corner.

A turfgrass specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service suggests three operations that can get a lawn off to a good start—scalping, fertilizing, and applying a weed killer.

"Scalping a lawn in late winter serves to revitalize it and promote spring and summer plant growth," points out Dr. Richard Duble. "Begin the operation by lowering the blade of your lawnmower one-half inch below the normal setting. Then mow the lawn in two directions that are at right angles to each other. Remove the clippings after each mowing."

Kubiak Asks Relief On Gas Bills

AUSTIN Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale Friday called on Governor Dolph Briscoe to use the immense power and influence of his office to bring relief to citizens who are paying gas and utility bills that have risen 900 percent over the past 2 1/2 years.

"Prices are beyond the point of just being 'higher.' They are at the point of being a public crisis now. We are facing a public emergency," Kubiak wrote to the Governor.

Kubiak urged Briscoe to demand that the Texas railroad Commission rescind its September 1973 interim order that effectively abolished the fixed price contract between Coastal States Gas Corp. of Houston and the Lower Colorado River Authority.

"We watched prices go from the contract price of $.21 per thousand cubic feet (MCF) to about $1.81 MCF now," Kubiak pointed out, "and all the while the Railroad Commission sat on the sidelines with their so-called 'interim' order in their hands."

Kubiak said the fact that the Railroad Commission has not entered a final order—and probably never will—hamstrings all legal procedures since the LCRA and other gas purchasers normally don't go to court to contest an interim order.

"A public necessity, a public crisis exists. The people cannot stand this deplorable situation much longer," Kubiak said. "I earnestly request you to get involved for the sake of our constituents and our citizens."

Duble also recommends keeping the lawnmower blade lowered until mid-summer.

"After scalping the lawn, apply a complete fertilizer (one containing nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium) to promote leaf and root growth," advises the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Use one pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. This is equal to 12 pounds of an 8-8-8 fertilizer or 8 pounds of a 12-4-8 fertilizer. Repeat the application in the fall."

For a dark green lawn, Duble suggests applying nitrogen every 60 days at the rate of one pound to 1,000 square feet. Monthly applications of iron chelate or iron sulfate during the spring and summer promote a healthy color in St. Augustine grass lawns.

"To keep crabgrass or other unsightly weeds from appearing, apply a pre-emergence herbicide (weed killer) containing benefin, dacthal, or bensulfide early in the spring," says Duble. "Combinations of herbicides with fertilizers are available and convenient to use but should only be used according to instructions on the label. Formulations containing atrazine should not be applied around trees or shrubs," he cautions.

"Proper maintenance is essential for a healthy lawn, and these practices will give new life to a dormant, weedy lawn," notes Duble.

Salon Takes Zany Look

WASHINGTON Reuter--A veteran congressman said today that President Ford has done for the pratfall what Harry Truman did for the piano.

With that line about Mr. Ford's tumbles and Mr. Truman's mediocre piano tinkling Representative Frank Thompson took a zany look at the work scene in a series of outrageous predictions for 1976.

Saying things may not be much better a year from now, the New Jersey Democrat said in a statement.

Here are some of his forecasts:

Thompson said that in February, Mayor Abraham Beame will bail out financially troubled New York City by selling a piece of Central Park for a vacation home development.

That same month, says Thompson, Julie and David Eisenhower will return from Peking and announce plans to open a chain of egg roll stands.

Yoe Slams Rockdale In Baseball Action, 8-4

Gerry Heitman unwinded his finest game of the season to pace the Yoe hardballers to an 8-4 win over Rockdale in Monday evening action at Rockdale.

Heitman fanned out 15 from the mound and gave up only four runs in seven innings of play.

Rockdale gained a 1-0 run lead in the top of the first inning. Martin Stromansingled to first followed by an error that allowed Thompson to first base. Watson singled to bring in Stroman.

In the bottom half of the 2nd inning the Yoemen gained the lead by scoring two runs. Donald Komar struck out followed by Heitman who was also fanned out. Steven Hollas singled followed by a single by Mike Barr.

Joe Reyes doubled, driving in Hollas and Barr for the 2 runs.

In the fourth inning the Yoemen extended their lead with the hard hitting Yoemen. S. Hollas made his way to first on a ball four call, followed by a single by Barr. Reyes struck out, followed by Dennis Hollas who made his way to first on another ball four call. Steven Hollas made his way around home plate.

Joey Mondrik with a hard hit single drove in two more runs, Barr and Hanel. The Yoemen owned a 6-1 lead. Rockdale scored one run in the top of the fifth when Grayson doubled and made his way to home plate when Cates singled.

In the top of the sixth Rockdale scores another run when Westley singled, followed by a base on balls by Stroman. Thompson singled driving in Westley.

In the Yoemen's half of the inning Reyes singled out to first followed by a single by D. Hollas. Hollas rounded second on a stolen base. Hanel sacrificed Hollas to third and was driven in by Mondrik. The Yoemen extended their lead to 7-3.

In the final inning the Tigers had one run when Cates was hit by a pitch and Cruz singled his way to first. Stroman singled and drove in Cates.

In the bottom half the Yoemen kept the pace with the Tigers, scoring one run. Heitman led off the hitting and singled. S. Hollas also hit a hard drive for a single, followed by base on balls by Barr and Reyes bringing in Heitman.

In junior varsity baseball action the Tigers cleaned up on the Yoe hardballers, 15-5.

Yoe Golf Team Begins '76 Season

The Yoe High golf team entered their first golf tournament of the season Monday and fired a 381 team total.

Members representing the Yoe team included: Lynn Roberts, David Cummings, Richard Raymond and Gene Goeke. Austin Westlake hosted the 4-A, 3-A, and 2-A golf tourney at the Lost Creek Country Club in Austin.

Austin Randolph won the tourney with a team total of 315. Llano placed second with a 327 and host Westlake placed third with a 340. The only other district team that placed above Cameron was Hearne.

Deer Estimate Is In For '75 Season

Hunters in Texas harvested an estimated 375,000 white-tailed deer during the 1975 season, according to preliminary estimates from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The estimates are based on a sample of some 27,000 holders of resident, nonresident, and exempt hunting licenses and combination hunting and fishing licenses.

Wildlife officials at the P&WD said the 1975 white tailed deer harvest figure represents a 10 percent increase from the previous season of 343,000 killed and even greater than the estimated 367,000 taken in the 1973-74 season.

Some 11,000 mule deer also were killed in 1975, up from the 9,200 taken last year.

Department officials said these were only preliminary statewide estimates and more complete data would soon be available by ecological area, county, and regulatory district.

Information from the hunter success survey is used each year in monitoring the state's wildlife resources and comes at a time when seasons and bag limits for 1976 are being prepared.

TECH ADVANCES...

The Texas Tech Red Raiders added a big plus to SWC basketball by defeating Syracuse in the first round of the NCAA regional playoffs. The game was played at the Supe Pit on the North Texas State University campus in Denton.

It is the SWC's most significant win in the post-season play according to many southern sportswriters who have backed the conference in doing everything to uplift its' image nationally.

In last week basketball action Tech defeated Texas A&M to represent the conference after the first SWC tournament.

In the next round of the NCAA tournament Tech will face Missouri. Missouri defeated Washington Saturday to reach the playoffs. Earlier in the season Tech played Washington in the Far West Classic and Tech was defeated by 22 points.

So it looks like Tech will have more than its hands full in trying to give the SWC a facelift.

TRACK AND GOLF...

It looks like the Yoe thincads found tough competition in the 41st running of the Yoe Relays Saturday. The Yoe runners will face even tougher competition in their next outing which is scheduled for next Saturday in A&M.

Track Coach Nelson Huffman said, "I was very well pleased in our performance. Everything went real smooth. I would like to thank all the fine workers at the meet Saturday."

"As everyone knows it was a very cold and rainy day and I personally appreciate all the fine help that we had," Huffman stated.

"We will find out just how well we are coming along this weekend when we will be running in the A&M Consol. Track meet in Bryan. We will be running against some real fine 3-A and 4-A talent and this will be a good match for us," Huffman said.

Huffman then said, "We're coming..." Coach Ed Cauley's golf team played in their first tournament of the year in Austin. Westlake hosted the play with the Yoemen turning in a 381 total.

IN THE ACT...

An ad placed by the American Civil Liberties Foundation (ACLF) of Texas in Austin is asking for a student - athlete to test the constitutionality of the 1974 polygraph legislation passed by the SWC. The ad also stated that all legal expenses paid.

The polygraph test is a tool used by the SWC on finding whether an athlete may have been involved in illegal recruitment practices.

Cliff Spigle of the SWC said that a person has the right to refuse to take the test. Bill Schiefelin of the ACLF was satisfied with the SWC procedure until the A&M basketball players, Karl Godine and Jarvis Williams were investigated.

Now the question of whether the schools have the right to take their scholarships away from them concerns Schiefelin. He believes that the athletes can be suspended from play of their particular sport but their scholarship should remain in tact.

Schiefelin has asked that someone test the validity of the SWC ruling.

It seems as though everyone is wanting to get into the act... And it looks like it could push the SWC a step back in their efforts of cleaning up the illegal recruiting practices that are so prevalent in college athletics today.

Tournament Tickets On Sale At TJC

Reserve tickets for the national junior college women's basketball tournament March 24-27 are on sale at $10 each at Temple Junior College, according to Frances Garmon, college girls coach at TJC.

The tournament is sponsored by the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (IAIWA). The national championship from a field of 16 teams. Winners of the regional playoffs will be announced later this week.

Runners - up in last year's competition, the TJC Leopardettes are the 1976 host team. Anderson S. C. Junior College is the defending champions.

According to fem coach Garmon reserve seats will guarantee good seating on the busiest nights. The finals will be on March 27.

Garmon said that the opening ceremony itself will be worth the $10. There will be many celebrities who will perform, one high school drill team from Robinson will also perform.

TJC Alumni Set Annual Meeting

Temple Junior College alumni will commemorate the college's fiftieth anniversary at the annual meeting of the Ex-Students Association
March 27 on the college campus.

It will be the thirteenth annual meeting for the association.

Also, a reunion for former members of the Temple
Junior College Choir will be held in conjunction with the alumni meeting.

Registration will be from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. followed by a barbecue luncheon from 12:30 to 1. The choir reunion and the Ex-Students Association meeting will begin at 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. respectively.

The college Chamber singers will perform at the general session, which will feature a presentation by DR.

Bluebonnet Trail Opens

The annual Highland Lakes Bluebonnet Trail, sponsored by the Highland Lakes Tourist Association, is set for April 3-4 and 10-11, in the Hill Country Highland Lakes of Central Texas.

Winding thru the communities of Austin, Marble Falls,
Burnet, Buchanan Dam, Kingsland, and Llano, the trail stretches for 240 miles thru some of the most beautiful Hill Country scenery in Texas.

Although Texas has experienced drought conditions this winter, recent rains in the Hill Country have guaranteed a sprinkling of the delicate
Bluebonnet, Indian Paint
Brushes, and other wildflowers. Added attractions this year will be some special events along the way plus arts and craft fairs in each community except Austin.

Visitors along the trail may pick up maps at the local arts and crafts fairs showing the best places to view bluebonnet fields. For a brochure and map of the entire trail including points of interest and special events, write Bluebonnets,

Computer Dieting Works For French

By Paul Majendie

PARIS Reuter--The French are so tempted by their fine food that they have been forced to think up a new way to lose weight--computer dieting.

The idea is the brainchild of a burly bon vivant in the hotel catering trade who found after years of copious business lunches that he had put on another 77 pounds around his already ample girth.

Doctors offered Gilbert Soubiran skimpy diet sheets and dieticians suggested every kind of crash course but nothing worked. So man turned to machine.

Soubiran discovered he could calculate within the nearest three and a half ounces how much he might lose a week by feeding information on his eating habits into a computer. With a strong will, the 77 pounds melted away.

He programmed the machine to work out exactly what nibbling was permissible and in what quantities. The Soubiran method was born.

His first 100 clients filled in detailed questionnaires designed to give a complete picture of their weight problems. The 43 questions ranged from which bits of them wobble most, to what caused the overweight--marriage, pregnancy, stopping smoking.

They were asked if they walked to work and if they had heavy-boned parents. Each client had to make out a list of likes and dislikes in the fish, meat, and cheese categories.

The computer devoured all this information and devised 100 different and carefully adapted diets.

The pioneer slimmers then were sent letters every three days to give them psychological support and each week they had to return "self control" sheets reporting their progress. The weekly weighing session came every Monday which usually stopped any weekend excesses.

As a result of the program, the clients each lost an average of 26 pounds over two to three months.

"You have no idea how happy you make people when you get them to lose weight," said Soubiran, who has received many letters of thanks from grateful slimmers. "Balancing the quantity and quality of the calories is 50 percent of the battle. The rest is psychological. We have to give people every encouragement."

His message is simple: "If you give way to temptation, remember always that for a few minutes pleasure you risk spoiling several years of your existence. Fat accumulates insidiously."

"The first days are the worst. Learn to resist temptation. One thing is indispensable for those wanting to thin down: the will to succeed."

Soubiran's path has been a lonely one.

"My wife, who is far too indulgent and incidentally as thin as a rake, is no help at all. I have to be my own police force," he said.

Art Displayed

Housed in the Gallery of the Alma Thomas Fine Arts Center at Southwestern University is the first public exhibit of African art from the collection of Carol Kilp of Austin.

The public may view this exhibit through March 31, announces Claude Kennard, art historian and director of the Gallery in the School of Fine Arts at Southwestern University.

distillery he proved his point by being interviewed in a first class restaurant.

While all around stuffed happily at sauce-laden masterpieces of french cuisine, Soubiran sipped a glass of champagne and nibbled at two meager slices of succulent pate de fois gras.

Answering any possible criticism about a dietician eating pate, he explained, "It is full of 'friendly' calories, you know."

But that is where his meal stopped. Once the menu arrived with a fulsome list of mouth-watering dessert, Soubiran commented wistfully: "Let me have a look at the menu--just for the pleasure of reading it."

CLUBS

Fleur De Lis

Mrs. W. M. Parrish Sr. of Marlin discussed the basics of flower arranging at the March meeting of the Fleur de Lis Garden Club held Tuesday at the Cameron Public Library.

Using flower arrangement she had made for the program, Mrs. Parrish pointed out the importance of balance, depth, dominance, proportion, and scale. She emphasized need for space in an arrangement, the effect of having related base and container and color.

"Decide on the structure of the design," she noted, and superimpose color on it using the rule three parts light, two parts medium, and one part dark.

Special guests for the program were members of the Civic Garden Club and newly elected members of the Fleur de Lis Garden Club: Mrs. Ernest Moore, Mrs. Debs Hensley, and Mrs. Stanley Vodicka.

Griffin Receives 3rd Award

Miss Harriet Griffin, director of professional relations for the Fort Worth school district, has been selected to receive the Distinguished Service Award of the National Council of Administrative Women in Education.

Miss Griffin is the daughter of the late M. C. Griffin of Cameron and the sister of Mrs. Birdie G. Ethridge also of Cameron.

The award was presented at the council's national convention in Atlantic City. Miss Griffin addressed the convention on her views on education.

The award is the third recent honor for the long time Fort Worth education administrator. She was named administrator of the year by the Texas Classroom Teachers Association and was also honored as the executive woman of the year by Zonta Club of Fort Worth.

Milam 4-H Food Show Open To County Cooks

The Milam County 4-H Food Show will be held March 20 at the Methodist Fellowship Hall in Cameron starting at 12:30 p.m. There will be three divisions: beginners—those under 9 years of age as of January 1; juniors—those between the ages of 9-13; and seniors—those 14-19.

There will be four classes in each division: main dish—usually contains meat or meat alternate; breads and desserts—includes quick breads, yeast breads, cakes, cookies, custards, baked fruits, puddings, doughnuts, pies, cobblers, and other fruit desserts; side dishes—usually served along with a main dish or as accompaniment to the main course; and snacks and beverages—as foods eaten in addition to or en lieu of a full meal.

All foods will be prepared at home and brought to the hall between 12:30-1 p.m. on March 20. All contestants will bring a copy of their day's menu and their recipe. Junior and senior division participants will also complete and bring a copy of their design for discovery record form for foods and nutrition.

Committees for the show are: set-up, Mrs. Charles Riola, Rebecca Riola, Christopher Riola, Peter Riola, Dominic Riola; Leslie Sheguit, Renee Sheguit, and Mrs. Paul Sheguit.

Registration for beginner participants will be by Mrs. Bobby Scroggins. Registration for juniors will be Mrs. Johnny Ray Marak. Registration for seniors will be Mrs. David Hause.

Superintendents are as follows: beginners—Mrs. Paul Sheguit and Mrs. Cecil Hicks; Juniors, Mrs. Harold Blair and Mrs. William Winker; Seniors—Mrs. Ray Biehle and Mrs. Stanley Glaser. Tallying the scoring will be Mrs. Charles Riola, Mrs. Preston Manley, and Mrs. Wanda Lee.

Registration and set-up will be from 12:30-1 p.m.; judging of all divisions from 1-3:30; presentation of awards from 3:30-4; and the tasting party from 4-4:30.

Registration of guests will be by Leslie Sheguit and Janene Biehle.

Debbie Malone will do the presentation of awards along with the superintendent and the county extension agents.

Teresa Beasley and Wynona Scroggins will be in charge of the tasting party.

Following the food show the Milam County 4-H Contests will be held starting at 4:30 p.m. at the Methodist Fellowship Hall. The individual and team demonstrations, share the fun contests, and the public speaking talks will be presented. Those placing first in each contest in the junior and senior divisions will represent Milam County at the District Contests on May 1 in Bastrop.

Changes In Income To Be Reported

In January 1974, a new program called Supplemental Security Income began making payments to certain people who were disabled, blind, or age 65 or older, and who met an income and resource requirement.

This program differs from Social Security benefits in that it is based on need rather than on the amount of Social Security tax paid. The amount of Supplemental Security Income paid to recipients is dependent upon several factors, including income, marital status, living arrangements, and family size and composition.

Because it is a program based on need, any changes in the above listed factors should be reported. Examples of events which should be reported are the receipt of Veterans' benefits or other pensions, a return to work, marriage, divorce, or separation of a couple, and changes in living arrangements especially if the home is to be furnished free by someone else.

Thousands of dollars in overpayments in Supplemental Security Income funds have resulted from the recipients' failure to report a change which affects his Supplemental Security Income check. The gets checks not due him, he is responsible for paying back the overpayment. This can be very difficult for people who are on a limited budget, so the importance of reporting changes immediately cannot be stressed too much.

All that is required to advise the Social Security Administration of changes, or get information about Supplemental Security Income or Social Security, is a phone call to your local Social Security Office. The address is P. O. Box 428, Temple, Texas. The telephone number is 817-778-1861.

TO APPEAR—Roy Acuff and his Smokey Mountain Boys will appear at the Milam High School Gym Wednesday, March 31 in a benefit performance for the Milam Volunteer Fire Department. Tickets are on sale now from members of the fire department.

ACTIVITIES

By Kenneth Waites

Milam County 4-H'ers returned from Houston Sunday, March 7 with a fair share of ribbons. Sixteen 4-H'ers entered their animals in the Junior Show and Christopher Riola of Cameron participated in the calf scramble Tuesday, March 2. Christopher managed to tackle and halter his calf, winning a $275 certificate to be used to purchase a dairy heifer which will be shown there next year.

Wynona Scroggins of Thorndale 4-H showed the Reserve Champion Brangus Heifer of the show. Wynona is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Scroggins. The results are as follows: Angus Heifers, 8th Loren Dale Westbrook, Milam; Brangus Heifers, 1st, 3rd, and 6th, Wynona Scroggins, 2nd and 7th, Rhonda Scroggins, Thorndale; Charolais Heifers, 3rd, and 8th, Lisa Rubac, 8th Sheryl Rubac, Cameron; Charolais Steers, 17th Daniel McDaniel, Cameron.

Dairy, Guernsey Heifers, 2nd, Shari Spence, Rockdale; Brown Swiss, 3rd, Peter Riola, Cameron, 20th, Bill Jones, Gause.

Lambs—Fine Wool—Crosses, 33rd, Rex Hirt, Thorndale. Other 4-H'ers participated in the show were Deborah Glaser, Lori Tomascik, Joey Harris, all of Buckholts; Jullann McDaniel of Cameron; and Wendy Hirt of Thorndale.

A big thanks goes to the Thorndale Chamber of Commerce for the purchase of Rex Hirt's lamb for $3.75 per pound. The support of the youth by business is appreciated very much.

JCPenney Reports Increase

J. C. Penney Company, Inc. aided by a strong fourth quarter, reported today a 58.8 percent increase in 1975 net income over 1974 on the basis of preliminary unaudited figures.

The department store and catalog chain's net earnings for the 53 weeks ended Jan. 31 amounted to a record $189.6 million, or $3.16 per share, compared with $119.4 million, or $2.02 per share, for the 52 weeks in 1974.

For the fourth quarter, also a record, JCPenney had net income of $109.3 million, or $1.81 per share, an increase of 235 percent over the earnings of $32.7 million, or 56 cents per share, for the depressed final 1974 period.

Sales for the 53-week were up 10.7 percent to a record $7,679 million from $6,936 million in 1974. Volume for the 14-week fourth quarter was also at a record, rising 20.0 percent to $2,561 million from $2,135 million.

Ex-Students Set Annual Reunion

March 22 is the deadline for reservations for the Temple Junior College Ex-Students Association meeting March 27, according to Charles Stout, faculty advisor.

The reservations and payment of $3 each for the barbecue lunch should be mailed to the Ex-Students Association, Temple Junior College, 2600 South First St., Temple TX 76701.

The meeting will commemorate the college's 50th anniversary and will feature a presentation by Dr. H. C. Farrell Jr., dean, of the 50-year history, and a performance by the college Chamber Singers. A reunion for former members of the college choir will be held in the conjunction with the alumni meeting.

Registration will be from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. A barbecue lunch will be from 12:30 to 1. The choir reunion and the Ex-Students Association meeting will begin at 1 p.m. and 2, respectively.

Who speaks for Texas?

Lloyd Bentsen or Phil Gramm?

In this Bicentennial Year Texas voters will have some important decisions to make, decisions which will influence the direction America takes as we enter our third century of national existence. In the May 1st Democratic Primary we will decide whether to re-elect a junior Senator who would rather be President, or a young, dynamic nationally famous economist. We will decide who speaks for Texas.

A Sorry Record

First let's look at Bentsen's record in the Senate.

- One of the first things he voted for was a provision to weaken the filibuster, thus making it easier to push through hastily considered legislation that could run contrary to the long term interest of the American people.
- Back in early June he teamed up with New York Senator Jacob Javits to co-sponsor one of the first "balloons" bills for New York City. Governor Carey of New York publicly praised Bentsen for his help. Later in Houston Bentsen denied he was for a bailout. A few weeks later in Washington he voted for it. How's that for consistency?
- Bentsen voted to end the depletion allowance, thus depriving Texas of hundreds of millions of dollars that would have been invested in new exploration and new jobs. In handbills he passed out in Washington he bragged that this showed he had "guts." But when he comes back to Texas he poses as a friend of the oil industry—one of the most important in the state.
- Bentsen voted for the McGovern Amendment that would make it easier for indigent people to get food stamps—at the taxpayers expense!
- Bentsen spurned appeals by the Governor and voted to impose the punitive and discriminatory provisions of the Voting Rights Act on his own state. Now every slightest change in every election procedure dating back to 1972 can be overruled by Washington bureaucrats. Appointed officials in the Justice Department who may never have set foot in Texas (and were certainly never elected by anyone in Texas) have the power to revise precinct boundaries—even to void municipal annexations which have taken place over the last five years.
- On two separate occasions Bentsen voted against the interest of Texas cattlemen by granting the President power to impose a price freeze on beef. The 1973 price freeze disrupted the beef market, causing at first shortages and then a market glut. The net result was a loss of hundreds of millions of dollars to Texas cattlemen.
- Bentsen voted three times to cut off debate, thus assuring the passage of the common situs picketing bill, a bill which would have damaged the already depressed construction industry by permitting a minor dispute between one subcontractor and one union to close down an entire construction project.

Has Bentsen Become A Liberal?

Back in 1970 Bentsen called Ralph Yarborough a "free-spending liberal." When Yarborough left office we had a $6 billion deficit. Today we have a $70 billion deficit. And if all the spending bills Bentsen voted for had become law the deficit would be even higher. For example, in 1971 Bentsen voted to extend OEO two years at a cost of $6.3 billion—including the creation of a "Comprehensive Child Development Program" that columnist James Kilpatrick described as "the boldest and most far-reaching scheme ever advanced for the Sovietization of American youth." Bentsen again voted for a similar program in 1972 which would have cost another $2.9 billion. Fortunately, both bills were vetoed.

The first time Lloyd Bentsen ran for the Senate he bragged he was a conservative. Remember? That's how he got himself elected. Have five years in Washington turned him into a liberal? That's what Elinor Guggenheim, the McGovernite New York City Consumers Affairs Commissioner, thinks. In her endorsement she described him as a man "who has seen the light of liberalism." He fooled her, but he hasn't fooled Texas liberals.

Bentsen The Opportunist

The truth is that Lloyd Bentsen is not a liberal. He's not a conservative. He has no principles, no political philosophy. His only commitment is to his own overweening ambition. He doesn't care about Texas. He cares about what he thinks will help his pitiful drive to become President. It would be tragic if the best Texans could offer to America in this Bicentennial Year were to return such a transparent opportunist to the U.S. Senate.

Fortunately the chance that he will become President is now virtually nil. As the Orlando Sentinel-Star summed it up on December 9th, "The Senator from Texas was an early entry and has been fading steadily. His own Texas backing is evaporating." And then they went to the heart of the matter: "If the oil wells of Texas were as shallow as he is politically, there would never have been any oil millionaires."

Phil Gramm Speaks For Texas

It is also fortunate that this year Texans have an exciting alternative to Lloyd Bentsen. Bentsen, after all, doesn't really want to be a Texas Senator. He wants to be President. Of course he'd rather be a Senator than out of a job. But that's not saying much. He doesn't work very hard at being a senator. According to Congressional Quarterly Bentsen missed more than one out of every four record votes in 1974, tying for ninth worst attendance record in the Senate!

Texans deserve a full-time senator who is fully committed to the needs of Texas and the philosophy most Texans share. Texas needs Phil Gramm. The national weekly, Human Events, in a recent major article on the Gramm-Bentsen race, described it bluntly: "One of the most forthright, outspoken, no-nonsense conservatives in the land is out to unseat one of the double-talking office-holders this side of New York City Mayor Abe Beame."

The article, written by a leading Dallas commentator, describes Gramm as a "dynamic defender of free enterprise." And the Longview News & Journal noted that "The message he is spreading across Texas is that the only way to curb inflation is to quit spending money we don't have and to quit running the Federal Reserve System's presses overtime to make up the slack."

Rescue The Economy From The Politicians

"Dr. Philip Gramm may be some thing of a rarity among economists," marvelled the Denton Record Chronicle. "He preaches economy." As Gramm sees it our economic problems are very real: inflation, unemployment, soaring taxes and energy shortages. But he has also seen that it has been the politicians who have caused the problems—politicians who are ignorant of economic realities and seek only to buy votes by bribing special interest groups with more and more deficit spending. Gramm saw politicians block the Alaskan Pipeline for five years to humor pressure groups that seemed to care more about wild catboats than they did about the millions of human beings who have suffered and will suffer because of fuel shortages. He warned the Congress in his testimony, but no one listened. Gramm saw politicians give free rein to bureaucratic busy-bodies who have all but strangled business, industry, and state and local governments with endless regulations, red tape, and demands for meaningless reports, disincentives causing waste, inefficiency, and higher consumer costs—pouring out of Washington. Phil Gramm had had it. He determined to launch a crusade to rescue the economy from the politicians.

An Uphill Fight

And so Phil Gramm became a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate. He knows he's in an uphill fight. His opponent is an incumbent and a millionaire who boasts that his campaign coffers (thanks to an election "reform" law he supported!) will soon be enriched to the tune of some $800,000 from the Federal Treasury.

Gramm Is Gaining

It's an uphill fight. But that's the kind Texans fight the best! And Gramm is gaining—fast. Recently the Houston Post quoted political observers as saying that Gramm is already leading Bentsen in two of the four most populous counties in the state. And Gramm is waging one of the most hard-working face-to-face campaigns in the history of Texas. He has spoken in scores of communities large and small in every part of the state. Everywhere he goes he is greeted with enthusiasm and wins new supporters.

You Can Help—Now!

But in order to win Gramm needs your support. Please fill in the coupon below and send it in.

Do it for Texas.

Tammy Quintero, one-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Quintero of Rogers, died Saturday in a Temple hospital.

Rosary was Sunday night in the Gommert Funeral Home in Rogers. Graveside service was at 10 a.m. Monday in the Hernandez Cemetery in Cameron with the Rev. Jimmie Greenwell officiating.

Surviving are her parents; one brother, Jesse Quintero Jr. of Rogers; two sisters, Mary Jane Quintero and Mary Ann Quintero, both of Rogers; and grandmothers, Mrs. Shirley Quintero and Mrs. Vivian Jaramillo of Rogers.

Partin

Funeral for Mrs. R. O. (Hope) Partin, 50, of Buckholts was at 2 p.m. Sunday in Gommert Funeral Home in Rogers with Minister Louis Sirney officiating. Burial was in the Rogers Cemetery.

Mrs. Partin was found dead in her home Friday night. Cameron Justice of the Peace Jess Brock ruled death by natural causes.

She was born in Rogers and was a member of the Church of Christ and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Rogers.

Surviving are her husband, R. O. Partin of Buckholts; two sons, Tyler Partin of Buckholts, and Harry Partin of Dallas; one daughter, Mrs. Cecil Thornhill of Temple; one sister, Mrs. Johnny Carpenter of Temple; and five grandchildren.

Roach

Funeral service for Jimmy Lee Roach, age 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Roach of Rockdale, was held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Marek-Burns-Laywell Funeral Home in Cameron with Rev. J. C. Scott officiating. Burial was in the Marlow Cemetery.

The child died Thursday night in a Temple hospital after a long illness.

Surviving in addition to his parents are two brothers, Douglas Roach and James Lee Roach of Rockdale; two sisters, Claydene Roach and Katherine Roach of Rockdale; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Roach of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Williams of Cameron.

Service Set At First Methodist

The third Sunday of the Lenten Season will be observed at the worship services at the Maysfield and First United Methodist Churches this Sunday. The Scripture lesson will be read from Romans 8:1-10. The Chancel choir under the direction of Mrs. Tommy Corley will present special Lenten music. The sermon topic will be centered around the theme of "Judas, the Betrayer." Rev. Stanley Vodicka will conduct the services.

Membership training classes will be conducted the next four Sunday mornings at 10 a.m. for boys and girls from the 4th through the 7th grades. The classes will meet in the Children's Division and will be taught by the pastor. The youth who attend these classes will be received into the membership of the church on Palm Sunday.

The third in a series of Bible studies on the prophets will be held at 5 p.m. on Sunday evenings. Don Humble will be the study leader for the prophet "Isaiah." Special sessions are provided for boys and girls that are led by Mr. and Mrs. Gary Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse White. A nursery is provided for infants and small children and refreshments are served after the study sessions.

James Camp is the superintendent of the study program and Bill Dase is the lay leader. Classes are provided for all ages in the church school that meets at 9:45 a.m.

Data Processing Department Shown

The Temple Junior College data processing department displayed a materials exhibit at the Vocational-Technical Education meeting during the Texas Junior College Teachers Association meeting in Dallas, March 4-6.

Representatives of more than 20 community and junior colleges exhibited course outlines, syllabi, teaching materials, equipment and brochures with TJC displaying the only data processing materials, according to Garnett Frazier, director of TJC data processing.

Religious faith is very much like a mighty mountain — its peak seemingly lost in the clouds.

On the lower slopes all you can do is plod onward and upward. You cannot see your goal or even know the many turns of the trail as it rises through the mist.

Yet on the high reaches, the brightness of the sun is everywhere. And with fascination you can look down on the clouds while pursuing your path to the peak.

We are trying to say: Never get discouraged in your quest for Christian faith and strength. One Sunday in church doesn't answer all our questions. One earnest prayer doesn't set up a communications center with God.

But every rising step brings us closer to that vantage point where the heights are clothed in brightness, and faith looks down on the clouds.

Count The Cost . . . Some Are Up, But Most Are Down . . . Texas Red Meat Production Increases . . . Farm Labor Constant.

Count the cost is an old Biblical admonition, and it is also being followed by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service relating to costs of production of beef cattle and hogs.

The state's hog and cattle producers are being included in a nationwide survey to gather information to help indicate the cost to farmers for producing beef cattle and swine.

The program, now underway, will contain information via personal interviews about farmers' expenditures for livestock, feed, equipment, energy, facilities, interest, taxes, cash wages, and repairs.

Production costs vary from one individual operation to another, but the survey should give some valuable general cost-of-production figures. All information provided by individual farmers will be kept confidential, and only regional and national summaries will be published.

SOME ARE UP, but most are down; that's the conclusion you reach when you read the farm price situation for Texas farmers. Only two commodities -- oats and mohair -- are above parity. However, wheat, sorghum, and some classes of livestock are above levels of a year ago.

That isn't as good as it sounds, however, since those commodities are still well below parity.

Parity for the month is 72, the same as a year ago.

Wheat as of the middle of February was averaging $3.66 per bushel in the state; that's up 26 cents from a month ago, but still $1.20 per bushel below parity.

Sorghum averaged $4.13 per hundredweight; that's three cents higher than a month ago, and is $1.32 below parity.

Cotton averaged 43.2 cents per pound; that's down 2.3 cents from a month ago and is a whopping 35 cents below parity.

Hog and lamb prices are below a year ago, but beef cattle, calves, and sheep are above year ago averages.

Broiler prices are a penny per pound higher than a month ago; egg prices are about two cents per dozen lower than last month.

RED MEAT PRODUCTION in Texas increased a whopping 27 per cent from a year ago to total 308,700,000 pounds. Nationwide, however, red meat production was 1 per cent less than a year ago and about the same compared to two years ago.

Pork production, however, was 14 per cent below a year ago.

THE FARM LABOR FORCE in Texas is virtually unchanged from a year ago. The agricultural labor force on farms and ranches in the state numbered 225,000, which is a decrease of two per cent from a year ago.

Farm and ranch operators and unpaid family workers totaled 159,000 down one per cent from a year ago.

The number of hired workers, at 66,000, decreased six per cent from a year ago.

Ag Trade Surplus May Reach $13 Billion In US

The United States will be able to enjoy an agricultural trade surplus of almost $13 billion in 1976, believes Dr. W. E. Black, an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"This means a $1 billion increase over this past year. The U. S. will import $10 billion worth of agricultural goods while exporting agricultural goods valued at about $23 billion," says Black.

Over the last five years, agricultural exports have more than doubled, points out the Texas A&M University System specialist. In 1971 agricultural exports were worth $8 billion and in 1974 they jumped to $21 billion.

The largest market for the U. S. agricultural goods is Japan, which imports more than $3 billion worth of agricultural goods each year.

"The Soviet Union and Eastern Europe are importing more agricultural goods from the U. S. this year, due mainly to a poor harvest in the Soviet Union and decreased crop production in Eastern Europe."

Exports to the USSR will reach about $2.1 billion in 1976 while Eastern Europe will receive about $1.1 billion worth of agricultural products," estimates Black.

Grain, oilseeds, and oilseed products, cotton and tobacco are the major export products from the U. S., points out the economist. Exports of these products could exceed 103 million metric tons in 1973, some 19 million tons more than this year's volume.

"Without a doubt, agricultural exports will continue to be a big 'plus' on the U. S. trade ledger."

Growers Shying Away From Sunflower Crops

Although much acreage was planted to sunflowers in Texas last year, producers are shying away from this relatively new crop for the 1976 season.

While lucrative prices buoyed the crop in 1975, the outlook is rather bleak now, says an agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Texas sunflower acreage shot from 5,000 acres in 1975 to 375,000 last year, and now mills and markets are over supplied," notes Dr. John Bremer. "Some crushers have enough sunflower seeds on hand to last about three years."

So the 1976 crop may be down to about 100,000 acres, especially if the current market price of 8 cents a pound doesn't take a turn upward. Sunflowers hit the 15-cent per pound mark in 1975.

"The 1975 sunflower crop in Texas has been valued at almost $55 million, with the big portion of the crop grown in the High Plains. Although the crop has potential over much of the state, it does best under irrigation and therefore the High Plains will continue to be prime sunflower country," points out the Texas A&M University System specialist.

Sunflowers fit in well in a double cropping program in certain areas, and they also work well in a rotation system with corn and sorghum. Since the crop is tolerant to many of the vagaries of weather, such as high winds and hail, it again makes it attractive to the High Plains.

"The simple fact that sunflowers are new to Texas brings on a number of production problems that have to be ironed out," says Bremer. "Yields last year ranged from 150 to 3,000 pounds per acre, so this shows that there definitely are problems. Many questions hinge around varieties, planting rates, fertility levels, insect, disease and weed control, and harvesting techniques."

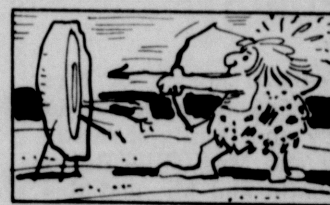

Variety problems have cropped up because planting seed had to be imported from foreign countries due to the expanded acreage last year. Many of these hybrids required cross-fertilization to produce a normal seed. However, the agronomist points out that the cross-fertilization problem has generally been eliminated for 1976 since ample supplies of domestic planting seed are available.

In an effort to control the sunflower moth, the crop's most serious pest, producers have destroyed such beneficial insects as honeybees which are important in the pollination process.

Disease control is also critical to producing a top quality sunflower crop. Powdery mildew and heat rot caused severe yield losses in many areas of Texas last year, notes Bremer.

Regarding harvesting, the major problem lies in getting the crop ready for combining. Sunflowers must be desiccated and only paraquat is currently labeled for use. Use of this chemical without careful attention to drift has caused severe damage to cotton and sorghum.

The oldest sport known to man is archery.

County Agent's Notes

Crop Prospects Good After Welcome Rainfall

By Bill McCutchen

The rains last weekend amounted from 1.5 inches in the Buckholts area to over 4 inches near Rockdale and put the crop situation into the pink.

The dry weather through the winter enabled farmers to get cropland into excellent condition. Subsoil moisture was excellent and the rains left the crop prospects in good shape. Fifty percent of the sorghum was planted prior to the rain and the rest can be planted now. The Thorndale area was about 60 percent completed with sorghum up to a stand in a lot of fields.

The wheat situation is mixed. Some suffered for moisture earlier, some suffered for fertilizer, and on the other hand we have some of the best looking wheat that I have seen in recent years. I would say the wheat crop prospects are at least as good as 1975 or better following the rains.

Cotton planting won't kick off much until April, but planting moisture shouldn't be a problem.

Cattle are generally in poor condition due to dry weather and lack of winter grasses and weeds but that situation is changing with more favorable weather conditions.

Massey Family

Wins State Honor

The L. J. Massey family of Hopkins County has won the 1975 Texas Farmers Home Administration Farm Family of the Year Award, according to an announcement by J. Lynn Futch, State director of the Farmers Home Administration in Temple.

The Massey family, of Route 2, Dike, Texas, was selected from sixteen district winners from throughout the state nominated for the award. Those nominated are farm families who have made outstanding success through the use of Farmers Home Administration credit in developing a family farm, while at the same time contributing to the betterment of agriculture and their community.

green diarrhea which may contain blood or mucus. Infected stock may also have a rough coat and lose weight.

Call a veterinarian immediately if you notice any of these symptoms. Then separate sick animals from the rest of the herd and keep infected animals off milk for two to three days. Keep calves that have been exposed to the disease in open areas with shelter available.

To maintain the body temperature of infected animals, consider using heat lamps, dry bedding and burlap sacks. As the animal's condition improves, gradually feed milk.

Fluid therapy is one treatment for scours. Alkalizing solutions or gastrointestinal preparations are given to coat and soothe the animal's stomach and decrease the absorption of bacterial toxins into the bloodstream. Giving A, D, E, and B vitamins is another method of treatment.

Finding and eliminating the source of contamination is most effective to prevent the spread of scours. Good sanitary and management practices will go a long way to reduce the incidence of scours in your cattle herds.

If you are a heavy user of cold cuts, it pays to slice your own. It's cheaper that way.

Calf Scours Bill Problem

Salmonellosis or calf scours, a highly contagious disease that affects young, weak, or stressed animals, continues to be a major problem for cattlemen. The disease, which is caused by salmonella bacteria, can be congenital (acquired at birth) or can be spread by an infected animal. Healthy animals pick up the bacteria by eating the feces of an infected animal or by eating infected rodent feces. They also can get the disease from contaminated feed.

Once an animal is infected, the bacteria multiply rapidly in the animal's intestines, then enter the blood stream and may localize in the lymph nodes, liver, spleen, or some other organ. Animals with scours will TP&L residential customers in 247 cities pay less for electricity than the people who live in Austin, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Los Angeles, New York, Philadelphia, San Antonio, and Washington, D. C. ... to name just a few.

In Corsicana and most other cities in the Texas Power & Light service area, 1,000 kilowatt-hours of residential electricity costs less than in most areas of Texas and the nation.

We're not overlooking the fact that in recent years the price of electricity has gone up everywhere, including the area served by TP&L. Skyrocketing costs of producing and supplying power have left TP&L and other companies no choice but to ask customers to pay more for their electric service.

Even so, the price of TP&L electricity today is far less than it would have been if we were not constantly working to hold down the price. One of the ways we're doing this is to

TMA Documents Impact Of Malpractice Insurance

Announcing the results of a survey of physicians, the Texas Medical Association says it can now document the impact the medical malpractice insurance crisis is having on medical care for Texas people.

TMA spokesmen said the survey of doctors proves the medical malpractice insurance situation is restricting the availability of medical care and sharply increasing medical care costs.

"We now have information," said TMA President Dr. N. L. Barker of Paris, "that causes us to believe that the word 'crisis' is not strong enough to describe the situation. The problem has literally exploded during the last four years. Trends have been established that must be stopped and reversed if medical care as we know it is to be continued. The passage of effective legislation is urgently needed to alleviate the problems that created the complex malpractice insurance mess."

"The crisis is not a situation that has come upon us gradually and to which we have suddenly awakened.

Suits filed against Texas doctors for malpractice have more than quadrupled since 1971.

Amounts asked for in malpractice suits in 1975 soared more than 500 percent over 1971.

Dr. Barker said, "The physicians of Texas did not, in 1971, suddenly change the way they care for their patients." He blamed a combination of factors for the crisis, one of which has been more malpractice lawsuits which later prove to have no merit. Another is the modern "glorification" of the physicians, which leads to unrealistic expectations.

"But more than those factors, our system is at fault," Dr. Barker said. It is a system that allows claims for unlimited amounts of money. It fails to place clear limit on the length of time allowed for claims to be filed. And it often does not apportion awards on an equitable basis.

These factors are forcing doctors to avoid providing some types of medical treatment, forcing them to order more x-rays and laboratory tests...to delegate less responsibility to nurses and other staff members, resulting in crowded waiting rooms and higher medical bills.

Dr. Barker said results of the survey underscore several signals:

--51% of all physicians in private practice responding to the survey said they have had to reduce the scope of their practice because of the threat of malpractice suits, creating special problems in smaller towns;

--One casualty of the malpractice insurance crisis appears to be the availability of medical care of Medicare and Medicaid recipients. Because the reimbursement for physicians treating these patients is unrealistic and fails to allow for the dramatic increases in malpractice insurance premiums, physicians are beginning to reduce the number of their Medicare and Medicaid patients.

USDA Tells Extension Deadline

Amendments to food stamp program regulations extending the mandatory deadline for state welfare agencies to make Public Assistance Withholding (PAW) available to food stamp recipients have been announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Public Law 94-182, approved Dec. 31, sets an Oct. 1 deadline for state agencies administering the food stamp program to implement public assistance withholding, according to USDA's Food and Nutrition Service. This extends the previous Jan. 1 deadline.

Under Public Assistance Withholding, a household receiving public assistance can elect to have the cost of its full monthly food stamp allotment deducted from the cost of its monthly welfare payment. The household then receives its food stamps by mail.

THE file number of said suit being No. 17,275.

THE names of the parties in said suit are: Lacy Noble, as Plaintiff and W. N. Gentry, Amanda F. Gentry, Reuben Gentry, J. E. Gentry, Walter Gentry, Albert E. Gentry, G. L. Gentry, Fannie Olive, Leonora V. Cheek, and M. Elizabeth Griffin, if living, and if dead, the legal representatives of each of the aforementioned persons and the unknown heirs of each of the aforementioned persons; the legal representatives of the unknown heirs of each of the aforementioned persons if the unknown heirs of the aforementioned persons are dead; and the unknown heirs of the unknown heirs of the aforementioned persons who are dead.

THE nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to-wit:

A trespass to try title suit asserted by Plaintiff against said Defendants in which Plaintiff alleges that under the terms of the Ten Year Statute of Limitation and the Five Year Statute of Limitation he is the owner in fee simple of that tract of land to which Defendants hold apparent record title, which tract is situated in Milam County, Texas and is more fully described as follows:

A part of the George Usery Survey, No. 369 in Milam County, Texas, and BEGINNING at the SW corner of an original tract conveyed to Lacy Noble as described in a deed dated Sept. 12, 1961, and recorded in Vol. 317, Page 547, of the Deed Records of Milam County, Texas, at a fence corner post, said point being 40 feet east of Center Line Station 1007 plus 04 of Texas F-M Road No. 112; this point is 5529.9 feet distant, measured along the center line of said F-M Road, from the intersection of said center line and the Williamson-Milam County Line.

THENCE with the south fence of said original Lacy Noble tract, as follows: N 70 deg. 20' E. 2335.9 feet to an iron stake at the S.E. corner of same.

THENCE with the irregular East fence of the original Lacy Noble tract as follows: N 19 deg. 20' W. 361.0 feet; N 19 deg. 30' W. 801.5 feet; N 37 deg. W. 82.4 feet; N 12 deg. 10' W. 262.0 feet; N 17 deg. W. 324.0 feet to a fence corner post on the south side of a County Road.

THENCE with the North and West fence of said original Lacy Noble tract as follows: S 54 deg. 40' W. 41.0 feet; S 31 deg. W. 129.0 feet; S 39 deg. 45' W. 300.0 feet; S 36 deg. 20' W. 250.0 feet; S 27 deg. 55' W. 117.0
